

Participants in BIER Stakeholder Dialogue Sessions

A portion of each Beverage Industry Environmental Roundtable (BIER) meeting is devoted to engaging and strengthening relationships with select stakeholders of specific interest to our member companies. Each session commences with an overview of the overarching mission and work objectives of BIER, followed by brief presentations from each of our invited stakeholders on defined topics. A professionally facilitated session follows the presentations to promote interactive dialogue on shared topics of interest and potential collaboration opportunities.

To date, the following individuals have participated in stakeholder dialogue sessions:

- ◆ Anne-Leonore Boffi, World Business Council for Sustainable Development
- ◆ Ercin Ertug, University of Twente
- ◆ Pascal Gréverath, Confederation of the Food and Drink Industries of the EU
- ◆ Catherine Klein, Valorplast
- ◆ Sujeesh Krishnan, The Carbon Trust
- ◆ Beth Kujan, Carbon Disclosure Project
- ◆ Jason Morrison, Pacific Institute
- ◆ Adriana Nosewicz, Union of European Beverages Association
- ◆ Chris Philpot, Waterwise
- ◆ Kati Price, The Climate Registry
- ◆ Bernard Pruvost, Nestle Waters representing the European Federation of Bottled Waters
- ◆ Mark Rhodes, Union of European Beverages Association
- ◆ David Rich, World Resources Institute
- ◆ Chris Williams, World Wildlife Fund
- ◆ Keith Jones, CropLife International
- ◆ Peter Erik Ywema, SAI Platform
- ◆ Jonathan Kaledin, Alliance for Water Stewardship
- ◆ David Willers, Better Sugar Cane Initiative
- ◆ Brooke Barton, Ceres
- ◆ Cashion East, The Sustainability Consortium
- ◆ Stephanie Daniels, Sustainable Food Lab

For additional information: <http://www.bierroundtable.com>. If interested in participating in an upcoming stakeholder dialogue session please email: info@bierroundtable.com.